dedication

we, the seniors of 1970, dedicate this annual to our football coach and teacher; a man who has displayed loyalty and determination not only on the field but also in the classroom.

superintendent h. h. cornell to whom we owe the successful planning of

principal's message

this book, like the period of time in the lives of the people it represents, does not on the surface, really tell the whole story. that story is the makeup of the finished product. we can look through this book and see things we like and things we dislike. it is difficult to imagine, though, all the work that went into the finished product.

the same is true of the people featured on these pages. we can look at all the familiar faces and see those we like and those we don't and yet we cannot really know all the things that have made them what they are.

the person represented here that most of us should be able to understand is ourself. if we have learned how to evaluate, and if we are honest, at least with ourselves, we should be able to look that picture right in the eye and come up with a pretty fair evaluation of where we stand at the moment. the questions "who am i?" and "where am i going?" should be fairly easy for most to answer at this stage. if they are not then somewhere the educational process has failed or perhaps it is just being denied.
